Just over half of map producer respondents say data availability or data access issues were very often (6.3%) or often (50.0%) the reason preventing the production of a map product intended for users in the field.

Note: Chart Percentages may not sum to 100% due to the omission of “no comment” and “refused” response(s).